GUIDELINES FOR APPLICATIONS FOR ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT CONTRIBUTION STATUS

- Student Contribution Status for Accounting, Administration, Economics or Business (Commerce) units of study

As from 1 January 2008 all domestic students enrolling in accounting, administration, economics and business (commerce) units of study may be charged student contribution amounts up to the maximum of Band 3. In 2009 this maximum amount will be $8,677 for an equivalent full-time student load.

The amount you may be charged will depend on when you began your course of study.

If you commenced your course of study before 1 January 2008 (pre2008) and meet the eligibility criteria then the maximum student contribution amount you may be charged will be limited to Band 2 up until 31 December 2012 when this transitional arrangement will cease. In 2009 this maximum amount will be $7,412 for an equivalent full-time student load.

As from 2013 all students in these disciplines will be covered by the same maximum student contribution amounts in Band 3.

Pre2008 Student Contribution Status

To determine whether you may be eligible for pre2008 student contribution status in relation to your accounting, administration, economics or business (commerce) units of study consider the following criteria.

- Did you commence a course of study with a higher education institution before 1 January 2008?
- If yes, were you a Commonwealth supported student in relation to your units of study?
- If yes, did you complete this course of study before 31 December, 2007?
- If you did complete the course then to continue to be eligible as a pre-2008 student this course must have been either:
 - an enabling course undertaken in 2007; or
 - a course of study relating to an honours course that you are now undertaking.
- If you did not complete your course of study you may be eligible for pre-2008 student contribution status.

Please note:- if you studied as a HECS student prior to 1 January 2005 but have not undertaken any study as a Commonwealth supported student between 1 January 2005 and 31 December 2007 then you will not be eligible to be a pre2008 student.

To satisfy the pre2008 criteria the course of study you commenced prior to 1 January 2008 does not have to be a course in accounting or related disciplines and you do not have to have undertaken any units of study in accounting or related disciplines prior to 2008.

The pre2008 arrangements will apply to you if you transfer from one course to another (including where one course of study is postgraduate and the other is undergraduate), or if you transfer between higher education institutions provided you meet the above criteria.

GUIDELINES FOR APPLICATIONS FOR ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT CONTRIBUTION STATUS

• Student Contribution Status for Mathematics, Statistics or Science units of study

All students who commence their course of study on or after 1 January 2009 (post2009), regardless of the disciplines involved, will be charged a reduced maximum student contribution amounts for the mathematics, statistics or science units of study that they enrol in. This reduced maximum student contribution amount is the 'national priority' band amount which in 2009 will be $4,162 for an equivalent full-time student load.

If you commenced your course of study before 1 January 2009 and are not eligible to have a post2009 contribution status in relation to your mathematics, statistics and science units of study you may be charged up to the maximum student contribution amount for Band 2 for these units. In 2009 this maximum amount will be $7,412 for an equivalent full-time student load.

Post 2009 Student Contribution Status for continuing students

To determine whether you may be eligible for post-2009 student contribution status in relation to your mathematics, statistics and science units of study consider the following criteria.

- Did you commence a course of study with a higher education institution before 1 January 2009?
- If yes, was all study not related to Natural and Physical Science?
- If yes, is this course of study still to be completed?
- If yes, are you transferring to a Natural and Physical Science course of study?
- If yes, you may be eligible for post-2009 student contribution status.

Please note:- if you commenced a course of study prior to 1 January 2009 and took a break from your studies then you will still be considered to be a pre2009 student on your return to that course or if you transfer to another course and do not complete the initial course of study.

Also, you will be considered to be a pre2009 student where you commenced your course of study as an international student before 1 January 2009 and subsequently obtained your permanent residency status or Australian citizenship thus continuing your course as a Commonwealth supported student.

As indicated above all continuing pre2009 students who do not satisfy these criteria will remain subject to the Band 2 maximum student contribution amount for these units of study. This status will continue until the course commenced prior to 1 January 2009, or the course the student then transferred into is completed.

Students eligible for both Pre2008 and Post 2009 Student Contribution Status

There will be some instances where students will be eligible to be assessed as both pre2008 for their accounting, administration, economics or business (commerce) studies, and post 2009 for their mathematics, statistics or science studies. In these cases the student's study circumstances will need to satisfy both sets of criteria.

For example, a student enrolled in a pre2008 Bachelor of Business may apply to study a combined Bachelors of Business and Science in 2009. This student will be eligible for the lower national priority rate student contribution amount for the mathematics, statistics and science units to be undertaken because they are transferring to a Natural and Physical Science course, and as they are continuing their study as a Commonwealth supported student they will have a pre2008 student contribution status in relation to their accounting discipline units.

GUIDELINES FOR APPLICATIONS FOR ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT CONTRIBUTION STATUS

If you believe that you may be eligible for either or both of these student contribution status classifications but are not sure whether these guidelines cover your circumstances, please complete the application form and attach a statement and documents explaining your situation.

Determination of your eligibility will be based on your application and the accompanying documentation. It is YOUR responsibility to provide all relevant documentation. If your application is based on studies with another higher education institution, your application will NOT be assessed unless supporting documentation is provided.

Deadline for applications

Applications must be received before the census date for a semester in order to be assessed.

Any applications received after that date cannot be accepted for that semester but may be assessed for the following semester. Once you have been granted a pre-2008 and/or post-2009 status for a course, you will not need to apply again for that course. However if you change course, you must complete another application for the new course.

An email will be sent to your University email account advising the outcome of your application.

Please also check your post-census date Commonwealth Assistance Notice (CAN) carefully – if you are eligible for either or both of the student contribution status rates and these amounts are not reflected in your CAN, you have only 14 days in which to write to the Student Centre requesting a correction.

Requests for a correction received more than 14 days from the date of the CAN will not be considered. If you are eligible for either or both of the above student contribution status rates but you have not complied with this time limit regarding requests for corrections to the liability notices set by Section 169 of the Higher Education Support Act 2003, then you will remain liable for the student contribution status rate as initially determined for your course.

If you have any questions regarding your student contribution status or the assessment of your application please contact the Fees Unit by email or telephone on 6324 3840 or 6324 3313.
